Be A Part Of Canadian Motorcycle Racing History

 SHANNONVILLE
MOTORSPORT PARK

RACE Moto welcomes you to be an integral part of motorcycle racing history in Canada. 2026 marks the 50th anniversary of motorcycle racing at Shannonville Motorsport Park.

John Nelson was an Irishman that immigrated to Canada with the dream of creating a motorcycle roadrace track. His dream came to fruition on Thanksgiving Weekend in 1976 as Shannonville hosted its first of many motorcycle road races.

Now, 50 years later RACE Moto will pay tribute to all of John's hard work. The half century season will climax with a monumental race on the September 26/27 weekend. The weekend will be a reunion for all past racers and it will showcase Canada's best current racers going handlebar to handlebar on the 4 km long track. Colin Fraser and his production crew will be televising the event.

In 2025 RACE Moto took over the Shannonville regional road race series. This was the first time in the history of Shannonville Motorsport Park that the motorcycle race series wasn't owned by the race track. The initial response was extremely positive with license and registrations increasing almost 20%. For 2026 we are on track to replicate the success in 2025
